Portrait Painting with Natalie Italiano

10 weeks starting Sept. 10th 2011

Adults and students 16 and up Saturday mornings 9-noon

Students paint from the portrait model, based on a classical approach: Starting with a monochromatic "grisaille," the gesture of the head is blocked in by relating angles, planes and shapes, from simple to complex. Through instructor demonstrations and critiques, students progress from the grisaille, to the "duo-tone" value study, and finally to the full color study.

Tuition: $356. Includes model fees

Natalie Italiano is an instructor in the core program at Studio Incamminati in Philadelphia and has studied and taught under Nelson Shanks for the last six years. She also attended the Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts. Her portraits have appeared in numerous group exhibitions and hang in many private collections. Her work can be seen at www.natalieitaliano.com.
